

“The Legacy of Yves Saint Laurent”

Soho 119 and the Fashion Group International of Kansas City presented “The Legacy of Yves Saint Laurent” at the Nerman Museum of Contemporary Art, Johnson County Community College. A short presentation on the life of Saint Laurent was delivered by internationally respected fashion design authority Carmela Spinelli. Spinelli, Chief Creative Officer for Three Wildcats, LLC, the management company behind Soho 119, is former Associate Chair of the Department of Fashion Design at the renowned Parsons The New School of Design and has lectured extensively here and abroad about fashion. A portion of the evening’s proceeds benefited the JCCC Fashion Merchandising and Design Department.

Above: Gary Head and Aimee Josett.

Above: Candace Prioleau, left, Jeanne Schrodt and Heather Joyce.

Above: Ramona Adden, John Wilson, Carmela Spinelli, Ann Brownfield and David Hulshof.

Above: Ronnie and Barbara Kahn, Barbi and Stan Bodker and Barbara Bloch.

Above, from left: Melissa Ball, Anna McConnell and Suzie Schatz. Left: Vicki Cohoon, Keslie Spottsville, Eva and Stephanie Reynolds.