FALL FASHION 2008 | THE KANSAS CITY STAR.

The tuxedo gets revisited with this one-piece cotton dress with loose pleats from BCBG Max Azria. The substantial gold necklace solidifies the dress's potential for power while the wool fedora from Christy's Crown Series works a whimsical side of sophistication.

Dress $218, necklace $158, Nordstrom Fedora $80, Soho 119

Local designer Laura Sterchl's "Indochine" necklace was inspired by her travels through Indonesia. With various agates, copper-colored wood beads and a gold snake chain, it's the ultimate statement piece.

Necklace $85, Haught Style
